Centennial Tree Planting.

There is no better way, says Mr. Northrop, of Connecticut, to honor the heroes of 1776 than by some good deeds whose fruit may survive 1976. One way in which any boy may accomplish this result is by planting a thrifty elm or oak.

Among the memories of my boyhood, while under thirteen years of age, no day has recurred with more frequency and satisfaction than that devoted to tree planting. The maples then set out before the homestead, in Litchfield County, are now beautiful and stately trees. They have paid me a thousand fold for the work they cost, and added new attractions to be the cherished spot to which I count it a privilege to make an annual visit. This personal incident is given to suggest how easily our youth may now provide for a like grateful experience.

A single fact out of many which might be given will be enough to illustrate the economic bearing of tree planting. New Haven owes its beauty and growth largely to the taste, liberality, and foresight of James Hillhouse. The Public Green Association, which he organized in 1799, raised and expended a little over $1,500 for planting elms and grading the Green. One of the donors gave five gallons of rum, then apparently as good as legal tender. Next to the location of Yale College, nothing has contributed so much to the growth and enrichment of New Haven as its elms. It is celebrated in this and other lands as the City of Elms. Its magnificent avenues of stately trees, surpassing even the famous Unter den Lindes of Berlin, have enhanced its reputation for taste, beauty, and elegance, and thus attracted many wealthy and desirable residents, and greatly increased the taxable value of all property in the city. New Haven virtually receives an annual income from her elms far greater than their entire original cost.

The judicious offer of $200 to be expended in prizes in Great Barrington is likely to lead to the planting of hundreds, if not thousands, of trees in that town. This example is commended to all who would make the centennial year memorable for tree planting. It would be easy for our men of wealth to start a kindred movement all over the State, and do each for his own town somewhat as Hillhouse did for New Haven. There is not a freeholder in Connecticut who might not plant at least one tree to be remembered by his children or children's children as "the Centennial Tree."

Grains of Gold.

If you employ your money in doing good, you put it out at the best interest.

Philosophy will gain friends, but adversity will try them.

A friend that you buy with presents can be bought from you.

Motives are like harlequins—there is often a second dress beneath the first.

The friendship of an artful man is more self-interest — you will get nothing by it.

A great deal of talent is lost to the world for the want of a little courage.

A distinguished teacher defines genius to be the power of making efforts.

Nobleness is the preferring honor to interest, and baseness the preferring interest to honor.

Covetousness, like jealousy, when it has once taken root, never leaves a man but with his life.

Things may be seen differently, and differently shown; but actions are visible, though motives are secret.

There's not one wise man among twenty will praise himself.

He whose own worth doth speak need not speak his own worth.

Shame, when it flies from the heart, takes refuge on the lips.

The end of a dissolute life is not unfrequently a desperate death.

Many a man full of excellent qualities wants the particular one which brings them all into play.

Genius lights its own fire, but it is constantly collecting materials to keep alive the flame.

The sweet light of friendship, like the light of phosphorus, is seen plainly when all around is dark.

Friendship is a silent gentleman that makes no parade; the true heart dances no hornpipe on the tongue.

To dispense with ceremony is the most delicate mode of conferring a compliment.

Those that dare lose a day are dangerously prodigal; those that dare misspend it, desperate.

If prudence cannot always prevent misfortune, it may do much in disappointing its effects.

As daylight can be seen through small holes, so do little things show a person's character.

In private we must watch our thoughts, in the family our tempers, in company our tongues.

When the winds of applause blow fresh and strong, then steer with a steady hand.

Where there is much pretention, much has been borrowed; nature never prentends.

We omit more duties through indolence than we neglect through interest.

The trials of life are the tests which ascertain how much gold there is in us.

Deference is the most complicate, the most indirect, and the most elegant of all compliments.

He who knows the world will not be too bashful, and he who knows himself will never be impudent.

If there has been no temptation, there can be no merit; if there has been no struggle, there can be no victory.

As the pearl ripens in the obscurity of its shell, so ripens in the tomb all the fame that is truly precious.

The man who is without any other ideas has generally a very great idea of himself.

A fool is often as dangerous to deal with as a knave, and always more incorrigible.

—Eminence is not to be reached by a frantic struggle. The road to it is much more commonplace. He that would dazzle must first dig.

—A man rarely speaks of himself without loss. His accusations of himself are always believed; his praises, never.

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

—Jeff Davis sails for Europe with his family in a few days.

—The telegraph line between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland is broken, and cable communication except by the direct cable is suspended.

—There was a notable falling off in the volume of quicksilver export trade last month, the total quantity by sea being only 1,150 flasks, against 3,900 flasks in March.

—A special from Atlanta says the delegates to the Republican Convention have held several meetings in caucus. A majority of the delegates are strong for Morton for President.

—Glover, Chairman of the Mines and Mining Committee, having written to Chandler for certain papers, the latter replies that owing to the direction of the President, he cannot comply.

—It is semi-officially reported that the Grand Trunk Railroad of Canada will reduce passenger fares between Boston and Chicago in a few days to $12. The indications are that other roads will also make reductions.

—The New York Tribune's Washington special says the President will veto the Consular and Diplomatic bill, even if he accepts its modifications. He is reported as saying that the bill cripples the service, and it is better to withdraw our representatives.

—The New York Herald's Promatory special says Dom Pedro was detained there by a singular incident. The freight train was wrecked near there by a bull standing on the track and overturning the engine and eleven cars. Two persons were killed and two more seriously injured.

—A Special dispatch from Washington says the Grand Jury have agreed upon an indictment against Belknap for alleged acceptance of bribes in his official station as Secretary of War. The presentiment is now in the hands of the District Attorney, who will prepare a special indictment.

—Notice has been given to Great Britain of the abrogation of the tenth article of the Ashburton Treaty, which relates to the extradition of criminals between the two countries. It is entirely within the power of the Executive Department of our own Government to give this notice of abrogation without the assent of the Senate.

—Watson's Ferry, Fresno county, is the great shearing camp of the sheep raisers of that part of the San Joaquin plains. The Expositor reports that 110,000 head of sheep were shorn there last Spring, and that the Spring clip this season will be from 132,000 head, the product being about 3,000 bales of wool.

—A party of Black Hills miners just returned to Sioux City say there is no fodder for cattle or horses in that country, and that stock is dying off rapidly from starvation. The grass is not yet started, and in many places snow still covers the ground—to the depth of a foot in the vicinity of Custer City. This party counted the carcasses of 400 animals that had recently died of disease and starvation.

—The iron steamship George Wilder, built by John Roach & Sons at Chester, Pa., and recently sold to a San Francisco Company to ply between that port and Portland, will leave about the 15th instant for San Francisco, by way of Cape Horn. She is now being thoroughly overhauled and refitted at Eagle Wharf, Hoboken. This steamship is about 1,600 tons burden, of a handsome model, and much resembles in appearance the new Pacific Mail steamers.

—Congress can easily adjourn in June. The Appropriation Committee only awaits the revised estimates of the Secretary of War, that favor having been asked by Secretary Taft. The Sundry Civil bill, which is necessarily the last appropriation bill prepared, and usually known as the Omnibus bill, is well advanced. A dead lock in the Senate must be taken into consideration, but if the Senate behaves itself there is no reason why Congress should not adjourn by the middle of June.

—A special received via Leavenworth brings additional information regarding the late outbreak of the Cachenect, Cochise and Apache Indians in Southern Arizona. The depredations of the savage marauders have extended over the greater portion of the southern part of the Territory. A fight took place between the troops and Indians, but no advantage was gained by either side. Several white men have been killed. The insurrection is now regarded at an end, the troops and citizens having been active in putting it down.

—The investigation into the Cotton Bureau of the Treasury Department promises rich revelations. It is already known that over $800,000 have been paid to attorneys for services for which there was no authority of law, while the employment of Judge Frazier of Indiana, late member of the British-American Mixed Claims Commission, at a salary of $10,000 per annum, is also in violation of law. Bristow did not employ him. He is one of the extravagances which followed the appointment of Pierrepont as Secretary of the Official Fees.

During the month of April the fees received by county officers were as follows:

Thos. A. Smith, Recorder	$1,477 45
H. N. Morse, Sheriff	304 67

Yosemite Travel.

MERCED, May 3d.—The departures for Yosemite to-day were as follows: F. Louis Allen, James M. Allen, Philadelphia; G. G. King, Cincinnati; F. S. Mainham, A. W. Scrutter, London; G. W. Higgins and wife, F. F. Lawrence, Chicago; Samuel Call, Miss Susie Call, Gilroy, Cal.; Grant Vandeusen, Ronndout, N. Y.; Henry Birch, Al. Gleason, Washington. Arrived from the Valley this afternoon: C. A. Andrews and Mrs. J. W. Redwood, New York.

Mount Diablo.

The Gazette, of Martinez, says the Mount Diablo Summit road is now in excellent order for the season's excursion travel, and the late showers are preserving the freshness of the landscape to enhance the inducements which the unequaled views from the summit hold out to visitors. The roads are now good from Oakland, and that route affords many attractions for excursionists. Bennett's famous and elegant coaches are all ready for service on the route from this place, which takes visitors through the whole extent of the beautiful oak studded, park-like, Ygnacio Valley, with its broad fields of thrifty grain, now in the freshness of their rich harvest promise.

Treasure Shipments.

The Treasure exports in April were $4,603,553 42, against $5,810,968 56 in March, $2,070,622 78 in February, and $2,391,287 10 in January; or, a grand total of $14,876,431 86 exported during the time mentioned. The shipments in April were as follows:

AUCTION SALE
—OF—
MINING STOCK
AT THE OFFICE OF
G. W. DAM & CO.,
906
BROADWAY, OAKLAND.

On Thursday Evening, May 4th,
AT 7:30 O'CLOCK, P. M.

WE WILL OFFER FOR SALE 5,000 Shares of the working capital of the Empire Consolidated Gold and Silver Mill and Mining Company, to be sold without limit. This mine is located in Humboldt County, Nevada. There has been worked at the Mill some sixty tons or more of ore, paying from $50 to $80 per ton. The mine has been prospected only forty feet in depth. The object in selling this working capital is to proceed in further prospecting the mine and prepare for taking out ore for milling. Some 2,000 shares have been sold here in Oakland, at $1 per share. 5,000 shares of the working capital of the Empire Gold and Silver Mill and Mining Co., in certificates to suit, from 20 shares to 500 shares; also, 3,000 shares of the Great Eastern Con. Gold and Silver Mining Co., in certificates to suit, from 25 shares to 1,000 shares. Deposit of 20 per cent. will be required on the fall of the hammer, the balance on Friday or Saturday evenings.

Sale will commence promptly at 7:30 P. M.

The Great Eastern is a very good mine; about 300 tons of ore has been worked at the mill from $60 to $90 per ton. Located in Humboldt Co. Mining District. From the proceeds of the rock that has been worked from the depth of only 60 feet we have no doubt but what a further development will show a very valuable mine.

G. W. DAM, Auctioneer.

The circulation of the TRIBUNE is more than double that of any other paper published in Alameda County.

Tribune Stock for Sale.

FROM ONE SHARE UP TO ANY DESIRED NUMBER OF SHARES.

THE TRIBUNE PUBLISHING COMPANY IS incorporated with a capital of $50,000, divided into 500 shares, of the par value of $100 each. Stock in the Company is now offered for sale, in any desired number of shares, at a nominal figure.

The patronage and circulation of the TRIBUNE are more than double that of any other paper published in Alameda County. It is acknowledged to be, in all particulars, the leading paper of the city and County; is thoroughly established, on a sound and paying basis. Apply to or address, BEN. A. DEWES, Oakland.

County Licenses.

Last month the County Treasurer and Tax Collector received $825 from the sale of county licenses.

Going East.

Many of our residents will start East during this and next month, to visit the Centennial, several having already started. We are informed that Mrs. Capt. Little and Mrs. J. Mora Moss, will soon start on a short visit.

State Educational Society.

The members of the California State Educational Society are notified that a meeting will be held at the rooms of the City Superintendent of Public Schools, in the City Hall, San Francisco, on Saturday next, May 6th, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Boots and Shoes.

Mr. D. Stuart, No. 905 Broadway, opened this morning a splendid stock of ladies' and gents' shoes and gaiters. They are of the latest styles and are from the best manufacturing establishments in the country. Mr. Stuart also does custom work, and in every case pleases with a good fit.

Picnic To-Morrow.

The Oakland Guard, Captain Ranlett, will hold its fifteenth anniversary target practice and picnic at Badger's Park, East Oakland, to-morrow, Friday. Every preparation has been made to render this an enjoyable affair, and good order will be maintained by the company. A grand moonlight ball will take place in the large pavilion in the evening.

Pacific Board of Missions.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Board of Missions for the Pacific was held yesterday. Mrs. R. E. Cole of this city, Treasurer of the Board, reported the receipts for the month of April at $186 15, of which $70 was received through Mrs. C. Richards, $20 from Mrs. J. K. McLean, $2 from Miss Mary Havens, and $2 from "a friend," all of Oakland.

Town Officers of Hayward.

At the first election in the newly incorporated town of Hayward, held on Monday last, the following named gentlemen were elected town officers for the ensuing year: Trustees—T. A. Cunningham, John Manzer, J. Pimentel and L. Linckin. Assessor—John Wootten. Clerk—W. W. Allen. Marshal—Geo. H. Horn. Justice of the Peace—S. Wootten.

A Practical Tailor.

Patrons of the TRIBUNE wishing anything in the way of clothing, should not fail to call on M. J. Healy, 1056 Broadway. Mr. H. has just received, and is still receiving very excellent additions to his stock of cassimeres, French, English and American, Scotch goods, etc. He has also on hand a fine line of Centennial traveling suits. Don't fail to see his goods.

Picture Frames.

Messrs. S. A. Perry & Co., 843 Broadway, we are pleased to state, have the best and finest machinery on the coast for making frames and mounting chromos. We have seen some of the work that this firm has turned out, and in rendering our opinion, pronounce it done in the highest style of the art. They do their work reasonable, and are in every respect reliable. Before having your work done elsewhere give them a call.

State Sunday School Convention.

The State Sunday School Association of California will convene in San Jose on Tuesday next and remain in session three days, for the purpose of giving a new impulse to the work, by essays, discussions, addresses, the giving and receiving of information, and other ways incidental to the gathering of teachers and other friends of the Sunday School. All the precedents of other years, and all the arrangements for this year, pledge a banquet at this meeting.

Odd Fellows' Library.

The circulation of the Odd Fellows' Library during the month of April was as follows: Fiction, 719; juvenile, 98; miscellaneous, 49; history, 30; poetry, 22; science, 20; travels, 13; religious, 3. Total, 956. In January the circulation was 960; in February, 861; in March, 1052, so that the total thus far this year is 3829 volumes, against 2716 for the same months last year. The growth of this library is continuous and the increasing circulation shows that its members appreciate its benefits. In a very few years it will be the leading library in Oakland.

The Ladies will be glad to learn that a superb stock of the latest styles of Note Paper and Envelopes has just been imported by STRICKLAND & Co., Call at their book store, 1061 Broadway, and see one of the finest lines of goods of the above stock ever brought to this Coast. OAKLAND'S BONANZA.

The Alameda Gold and Silver Mining Company Elects Officers and Prepares for Business—Geologic Indications of a Bonanza.

Oakland's new mining company, incorporated to work the first southern extension of the already famous Leopard lode in Cornucopia District, Elko county, Nevada, is now fully organized and about ready to begin the work of uncovering another bonanza. At a meeting of the stockholders of the company, held in this city yesterday afternoon, at which 44,000 shares of the stock was represented, by-laws were adopted for the government of the company, and the following named well known Oaklanders were elected Trustees: S. F. Daniels, S. Milbury, J. L. Wetmore, A. W. Bishop and C. E. Gillett. At a subsequent meeting of the Trustees the following named gentlemen were elected officers of the company: Samuel Milbury, President; A. W. Bishop, Vice-President; C. E. Gillett, Secretary; J. L. Wetmore, Treasurer; and Harry A. Harville, Superintendent.

A few shares of the stock of the company will be placed upon the market for the purpose of raising capital to open the mine, and parties wishing to speculate in mining stocks will scarcely find a better opportunity for a safe and profitable investment than by applying to the Secretary, Col. C. E. Gillett, at the office of Wells, Fargo & Co., on Broadway. From personal knowledge of the ground and familiarity with the history of the Leopard and of Cornucopia District, we have no hesitation in predicting that the Alameda Company's mine can be placed upon a paying basis by the expenditure of a very few thousand, perhaps hundred, dollars. The north end of the Leopard paid, and paid handsomely, from the grass roots down; but going south the lead runs under a sharp ridge capped with iron stone, and as soon as this is penetrated (say 100 feet) the lode will be reached in the Alameda.

Mr. Harville, the Superintendent elect, is a gentleman thoroughly well qualified to fill the position to the satisfaction of the stockholders, and they have been exceedingly fortunate in securing his services. He is an experienced miner and mill man, a rare combination of qualifications for a Superintendent, and is a gentleman every way trustworthy. He was twice elected to the important office of County Assessor of Elko, and has been Superintendent and foreman of the Hussey mine (adjoining the Leopard on the north, and 1,500 feet from the Alameda) since its location. We understand that he will start for Cornucopia on Monday next, and presume the work of development will be commenced soon after his arrival there.

There are many and unusual inducements to speculation (for that is what all mining investments are called) in the stock of Oakland's new company. Taking the history of the Comstock for a guide, there is every reason to believe that the company's ground will prove vastly more valuable than either the Leopard or Hussey, for it is in solid ground, under a high ridge that has not been disturbed since the formation of the fissure, while the explorations in both the Leopard and Hussey show that the deep transverse canyon which crosses the lode near the junction of those two claims was created subsequent to the formation of the vein, and that the natural forces which created it disturbed the vein matter near the surface and allowed a large percentage of the precious metals to escape, or deranged nature's laboratory and dissipated the ingredients from which the precious metals are formed. No mine on the Comstock, facing a deep transverse canyon, has ever paid. The Bullion is a notable instance. The Kentuck, lying across the mouth of Crown Point Ravine, in Gold Hill, paid a little near the surface, and in the base of the north ridge, but at greater depth, in the center of the ravine, it has been nearly barren, while the Yellow Jacket on the north and Crown Point on the south (only 94 feet apart) have turned out their millions. Deeper explorations show that the vein is becoming more compact and the ore of much higher grade in both the Leopard and Hussey, and we have no doubt that the Alameda, which has never been disturbed near the surface, as the others have, will show a massive lode of compact and high grade ore as soon as the vein is reached. Another inducement to investment is the assurance that purchasers have—in the high charter, integrity and probity of the well known business men of Oakland who have the management in their hands—that they will be fairly dealt with and will receive the full legitimate increase in value of their property.

Odd Fellows' Library of Oakland.

This splendid library is still on the advance. A short time ago we had the pleasure of publishing an elaborate statement from the President, showing the status of this useful institution, and now the Corresponding Secretary informs us they have since that time added by purchase some three hundred volumes, most of which are standard works by the best authors. The Trustees have also added a cabinet to their room in which they have a fine collection of stuffed birds and quadrupeds, a donation from our kind-hearted and generous fellowtownsman, Dr. A. Verhave, and for which the Doctor has the warm thanks of the Trustees and brethren of the Order generally. All sojourning brethren and friends are invited to visit the Library Rooms, which they will find open every afternoon from 1 o'clock, P. M. to 5 o'clock, P. M., and in the evening from 6:30 P. M. to 9 P. M. Sundays, from 10 A. M. to 12 M. They will find Bro. Upson, the Librarian, always courteous and attentive and glad to see his friends.

Sudden Death.

A man named George Hastings, an Englishman by birth, and a resident on this coast for the past fifteen years and of this city for five or six years last past, died while sitting in a chair in the Golden Star Hotel, between 2:30 and 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been conversing with the bar keeper and remarked that he had been unwell and would go to the hospital to-day, and, picking up a newspaper, sat down in a chair, crossed his legs and breathed his last, without a word or sign and without toppling over. The inmates of the room did not notice that he was dead until an outsider came in and remarked it. Dr. Woolsey held an autopsy to-day and ascertained that heart disease was the cause of death. Coroner Helmer will hold an inquest on the body at 7 o'clock this evening.

AGENT FOR BLACKMAN'S FLUID for restoring tarnished jewelry, soiled silverware, to the original brilliancy. W. Wilson, 961 Broadway, Oakland.

SENRAM, AT 963 BROADWAY, has just received from the East an immense and choicely selected stock of boots and shoes which will be sold cheap for cash.

CALL AT SCHELLHAAS FOR FURniture—new or second-hand.

THE DROWNING.

Sad Death of a Little Girl and Heroic Conduct of a Young Brother.

Yesterday afternoon we made brief mention of the drowning of a little girl off Long Wharf, but were misinformed as to the name, it being Florence Emma Dickinson, instead of Wilkinson. The child—an exceedingly bright and promising girl two years and nine months old—wandered out on the wharf to the first slip beyond the land, accompanied by two of her young brothers and another child, and was playing on the wagon bridge when the local train came along, which so frightened her that she crouched against the plank fence on the north side of the wagon way, and fell through between the boards into the water. Her little brother, ten years of age, sprang into the water and attempted to rescue her, while his companions screamed for help. A Mr. King, hearing the screams ran to the rescue and jumped into the water just in time to save the

HEROIC LITTLE BOY,

Who was in a drowning condition, but the little girl had sunk and drifted away with the tide. Subsequently the body was driven ashore by the tide and was recovered near the Oakland Point Planing Mills.

The father of the unfortunate little child was absent attending to business at Forest Hill, Placer county, and was expected home last evening. The Coroner was informed of the recovery of the body, but deemed it unnecessary to hold an inquest, and turned the body over to the bereaved mother, who lives near Oakland Point.

Episcopal Diocesan Convention.

The annual session of the Diocesan Convention of the Episcopal Church of California convened in San Francisco yesterday. The following named parishes in this city and county were represented by the lay delegates named: Alameda—E. R. Highton, M. G. Cobb and T. A. Smith; Oakland—St. John's Church: R. W. Kirkham, S. E. Alden, Stephen Smith, W. S. Welcher, William Bolton. St. Paul's Church: A. J. Gladding, J. A. Stanly, J. B. Harmon, Watson Webb, J. C. Kelton. East Oakland—Church of the Advent: A. F. Rodgers, L. J. Rector, C. M. Nichols, J. W. Martin, A. Martin. This church is rapidly spreading its parishes over the State, and now represents a membership in the State of over 5,000 adults. These parishes are located as follows, respectively: Alameda, Benicia, Castroville, Centerville, Eureka, Folsom, Gilroy, Grass Valley, Los Angeles, Martinez, Marysville, Napa, Nevada City, Oakland (three), Petaluma, Redwood City, Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco (six), San Jose, San Mateo, San Rafael, Santa Barbara, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Santa Rosa, Sonora, Stockton, Suisun, Vallejo, Watsonville, besides numerous missions. They have church property valued at over $235,000.

Loyal League.

At a regular meeting of the Commandery of the State of California Military Order, Loyal Legion, United States, held in San Francisco last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Commander, Brevet Major-General John F. Miller, U. S. V.; Senior Vice-Commander, Pay Director J. S. Cunningham, U. S. Navy; Junior Vice-Commander, Brevet Brigadier-General George S. Evans, U. S. V.; Recorder, Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel W. E. Smedberg, U. S. Army; Treasurer, Brevet Colonel James M. McNulty, U. S. V.; Chancellor, Past Assistant-Surgeon A. P. Babcock, late U. S. N.; Registrar, Brevet Colonel James Coey, U. S. V.; Chaplain, Daniel Kennedy, U. S. A.; Council, Lieutenant-Colonel Alex. G. Hawes, U. S. V.; Major D. W. C. Thompson, U. S. V.; Captain C. Mason Kinne, U. S. V.; Captain James H. Withington, U. S. V., and Captain Wolton Webb, late U. S. A.

Pacific Theological Seminary.

The anniversary exercises of the Pacific Theological Seminary will be held in the First Congregational Church, in this city, on Thursday evening, May 18th, at 7:30 o'clock. The oration will be delivered by the Rev. T. T. Munger, of San Jose. Two young men, Messrs. Smith and Tracy, will make addresses, and will afterwards receive their degrees as graduates of the Institution. The Senior Professor will make a parting address. They will have music by the choir. All people are invited and urged to attend. The annual examination of the classes of the Seminary will begin at 10 o'clock A. M., of May 18th. The visitors especially, and all others interested, are cordially invited to assist at the examination.

Found Burned to Death.

The cabin of James Calvin, a farmer living six miles north of Livermore, in this county, was destroyed by fire night before last or early yesterday morning. Parties passing the premises yesterday morning saw the burning ruins, and found Calvin's body in the ruins, completely burned to a crisp, nothing being left but the chest and upper part of the trunk. From the position of the body it was thought he discovered the fire and attempted to escape, but was smothered by the smoke, or that he had been murdered and the house burned over him, to cover all traces of the deed. The deceased was a single man and temperate in his habits. Coroner Church held an inquest, the verdict being accidental death by burning.

Boiler Inspector.

Oakland may make something out of the law creating the office of Boiler Inspector in San Francisco. If the office is filled, there are various manufacturing establishments that will be removed to this side of the bay, the owners being unwilling to submit to the exactions that are expected. The U. S. Inspector looks out for steamboat boilers only, and he will not, it is publicly charged, allow the use of any not made from a particular kind of iron manufactured by his uncle. If there is a San Francisco Inspector, it is feared that he will apply the same principles of inspection to stationary boilers.

HENRY HAUSCHILDT (FORMERly of Senram & Co.) begs to inform his friends and the public in general that he has opened at No. 1057 Broadway, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, with the finest stock of Boots and Shoes ever brought to this market, which he offers to sell at lower prices than any store in this city, at least, at San Francisco prices. Repairing done neatly and with dispatch.

CALL AT WILSON'S, NO. 961 Broadway, and make a note of the hard time prices. There is no better time than the present for making purchases in Watches, Jewelry, etc., if the buyer considers the saving of money an object. All repairing promptly done and satisfaction guaranteed.

THE NATIONAL GOLD MEDAL was awarded to Bradley & Hulofson for the best Photographs in the United States, and the Vienna Medal for the best in the world. Ascend in the Elevator. 429 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

The case of James Cassidy, indicted for perjury, is on trial in the County Court to-day. He is charged with swearing that he was worth $500, when signing a bail bond, while in fact he was not worth that much money.

To-morrow morning Wallace Everson, late President of the City Council, with his family, will depart on a visit to the Centennial. The well wishes of a host of friends will go with him, and may the trip be one of unalloyed pleasure.

Amanda Anderson, and J. S. Anderson, her husband, filed a complaint in the Third District Court yesterday, to foreclose a mortgage for $1,400 on certain premises in this city, owned by Richard Trethaway and wife and E. J. Kelley.

There is plenty of trouble about street cars in San Francisco. The people think that five cents is enough to pay for the privilege of hanging on to a car platform for a few moments. The drivers are somewhat ugly and disagreeable to passengers, and the public will by and by find out that it is pleasanter and cheaper to make the trip to Oakland than it is to reach the Mission or the sand hills at Lone Mountain. The meaner the San Francisco street car companies act, the better will it be for Oakland.

CHINESE JOURNALISM.

Interesting Information About the San Francisco Chinese Organ.

H. Blodget writes from Peking to the San Francisco Pacific, giving an interesting description of the newspaper that is circulated among the Chinese on the Pacific Coast. We copy as follow from his letter:

PEKING, Feb. 10, 1876.

FOR THE PACIFIC: The Chinese newspaper called The Oriental, printed in San Francisco, finds its way to Peking, and a copy of it dated Oct. 9, 1875, now lies upon our table. This paper looks out upon the world from the Chinese point of view. Its religion, morals, and philosophy, are thoroughly Chinese. If even explains earthquakes by the philosophy of the Book of Changes, the oldest book of the Chinese literature.

The name given to the paper in English is hardly a fair translation of the Chinese name, which is "Tang Fan Koong Pao." A more correct translation would be, "The Chinese and Foreign (or Barbarian) Newspaper." The word "Fan," rendered here "Foreign or Barbarian," is defined in Williams' Dictionary as "an ancient tribe of Mongols, or Huns near Kokonar, beyond the frontier of China, aborigines of the country in the south, now applied to any uncivilized people, and, in contempt, along the southern coasts, to Europeans and other foreigners." Morrison's Dictionary, in defining the same word, says, "a low word, denoting foreign." Although the Chinese in times past may have used this term in ignorance of the real character of western nations, as the ancient Greeks used the word "barbarian," yet its present use in China, or in California, as designating the people of western nations, is undoubtedly contemptuous. An official dispatch sent by the Chinese Government to the representative of any foreign nation, containing the word, would not be received, but would be returned immediately. Its use among officials of China in any written documents would be matter of grave protest. No Chinese newspaper in the open ports of China would be allowed to take such a name. Could not some friendly influence be brought to bear upon the Chinese in California to induce them to change this name? They are in no want for respectful language if they will consent to use it. And they greatly injure themselves by this standing insult to the people among whom they dwell.

As has been intimated, the paper defends and upholds the Confucian religion. Some idea may be obtained by the translation of one of its articles: "Ever since the opening of China to trade with foreign nations, foreigners (or barbarians) have sent men to China to spread the Christian religion. These men have penetrated to every province, rented houses, opened chapels, and preached their doctrines, with the design of prevailing upon the men of the flowery land to turn and become barbarians.

"Now we of the central kingdom have the religion of Confucius, with all its fine relations and its fine virtues, which we constantly preach and which the people universally receive. All good, beginning with the cultivation of personal virtue and extending even to the maintaining of peace and good order throughout the Empire, springs from this religion. Fancy that we should go after the religion of the Barbarians!

"Recently, in a certain district city, where a house had been rented for a chapel in which to preach the doctrines of the Christian religion, the people after hissing the preaching, not only did not become converts, but were filled with hatred, and would not allow the thing to continue. They raised a disturbance around the chapel, and informed the district magistrate against the man who, from sheer covetousness, had leased the buildings for such a purpose. They then besought the magistrate to issue a proclamation forbidding the continuance of the preaching. The magistrate listened to the bequest of the people, and, fearing a mob, closed the chapel."

The word for "barbarians" here is "I," a stronger and more contemptuous word than "fan," used above.] "Upon this the British Consul sent a man (the missionary), with certain Chinese, to the office of the Department Magistrate, to enter their complaint and explain the affair. But the department magistrate contemptuously addressed him in the following language: "An Englishman is what sort of a thing? You only have a passport for traveling, none for doing your missionary work. You cannot be allowed to spread your doctrines here." He also ordered the district magistrate to have the landlord beaten, in order to deter others from like conduct. Plainly, these two magistrates hate this religion, and do not wish the people to be deceived or led astray by it."

Following this and in the same spirit is an account of a disturbance at the London Mission Chapel, in Shanghai. Such articles in the paper are only what is to be expected. In fact, as now conducted, the paper constitutes a powerful bond to the Chinese to hold them to their own people, and to their national religion and customs. There are also, no doubt, incidental benefits attending its circulation in awakening thought and inquiry. Some light must penetrate even so dark a medium.

Is there any way open to the Christians of California to counteract the evil influences of this paper, and at the same time instruct and guide the Chinese emigrants, and dispose their minds favorably toward the Christian religion?

No doubt a great point would be gained, if those who conduct the Oriental could be induced to refrain from insulting language towards those of other nations. Not only does common courtesy require this, but the effect of the contrary course is very injurious upon the Chinese themselves. We can not however expect greatly to modify the present paper. It must remain essentially what it now is.

Converting the Heathen.

In the Pacific of to-day we find the following: "The Chronicle quotes from the Oakland TRIBUNE the following statement: 'The task of converting the heathen Chinese must be hopeless. It has been shown that a San Francisco missionary has been in the business ten years and has made only ten converts.' We do not know what missionary is here referred to, and cannot think of any one who has not been blessed with a larger measure of success than this paragraph indicates. The Presbyterian mission is the oldest of the four, having been in operation nearly 25 years. About ninety conversions of "heathen Chinese" are reported in connection with its work. The exact measure of the results attending the work of the Methodist and Baptist missions we cannot state. Both have done great good. We are quite sure that we do not exaggerate in estimating the number of conversions at the Methodist mission at about one hundred. The mission of the "American Missionary Association," sustained mainly by our Congregational churches, has seen at least eighty turning from idolatry to the service of Christ within the past two years. And the test of time and of the fruits, gives us constantly increasing confidence in the genuineness of these conversions. To save ten souls is worth the work of any man's lifetime, but God rewards us in this work far beyond our deserts. Would it not be "the fair thing" for the Chronicle and the TRIBUNE to correct the false impression which the paragraph above cited is calculated to produce?"

The statement alluded to appeared in one of the reports of the testimony brought before the Legislative Commission, attributed to one of the San Francisco missionaries. If untrue, he was not properly reported in the newspapers. That is all we know about it. We certainly hope that the Pacific is correct in its opinion that so many of the Chinese have been Christianized, but it is a notorious fact that the principal part of the Chinese who go to the Sunday-schools do so merely for the purpose of learning our language.

Grand Encampment.

The twenty-second session of the R. W. Grand Encampment of California, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will open in Covenant Hall, Odd Fellows' building, San Francisco, at 10 o'clock to-morrow. There are fifty-three subordinate Encampments in the State. Following is a list of the present officers of the Grand Encampment: Albert Shepard of San Francisco, M. W. G. P.; H. S. Winn of Stockton, M. E. G. H. P.; I. W. Hayes of Grass Valley, R. W. G. S. W.; Jacob F. Miller of San Fransisco, R. W. G. S.; David Hunter of San Francisco, R. W. G. T.; John F. Brown of San Francisco, R. W. G. J. W.; Jacob F. Miller of San Francisco, R. W. G. Rep.; Nathan Porter of Alameda, R. W. G. Rep.; I. D. Barnard of San Francisco, W. G. Sentinel; Albert O. Day of San Francisco, W. D. G. Sentinel; David Shakespeare of Oakland, W. G. Marshal; Trustees—Lewis Soher, Columbus Bartlett and J. A. McClelland, all of San Francisco.

The Harbor Finances.

The total receipts of the Harbor Commissioners during the month of April from wharves were $29,327 21, of which the front, Green and Union street wharves contributed the most, $4,406 08, and the Second and Berry street wharves the least, $83 80. The Oakland ferry paid $2,368 75, and the Central Pacific Railroad paid $1,852 40 for its privileges. The sum of $5,576 98 was drawn from the Harbor Improvement Fund. The disbursements on account of current expenses of wharves were $3,717 84; for urgent repairs, $1,881 74; for steam dredger, $3,101 47; for cleaning wharves, $413 95; on construction account, $4,568 24; for dredging under contract, $1,008 74; $19,318 was remitted to the State Treasurer for the Harbor Improvement Fund.

Hovey, San Francisco, rope gripping devices for propelling vehicles; Geo. W. Price, San Francisco, hose couplings; William U. Bohm, San Francisco, ticket holders; Thomas A. Cochrane and Joshua Hendy, San Francisco, ore feeders; Henry Jones, Shasta, Cal., gate latches.

One Gleam of Sunshine.

A driver on a Sixth-avenue car is watched for daily by a midget of a child, thinly clad but clean, and the wee toad stands, rain or shine, at just such an hour, with a tin pail of supper for her father, who is always on the look-out. The baby makes its way through the street, leaving sometimes another, still smaller, on the sidewalk; the father stoops for his pail and instantly kisses the little face. It's a picture for a painter. The small figure in a big shawl, with a pail as tall as herself, straining her tiny eyes for the far-off car, and when the right one approaches the gleeful leap from the curb into the mud, through which she plunges and gains a kiss from the tired, wet face she loves so well.—N. Y. Cor. St. Louis Republican.

—Hard study does not of itself shorten life, but of itself tend to increase the longevity of man. When hard students die early, it will be found that in some way they had fallen into the habit of violating some of the laws of nature, or began study with some inherited infirmity. The pursuit of truth is pleasurable; it is exhilarating; it is exalting, and promotes serenity. Of all men, natural philosophers average the longest lives. The great, the governing reason is, in addition to the above, that their attention is drawn away from the indulgence of animal appetites; their gratifications are not in that direction; hence they are neither gourmands, drunkards, nor licentious.

WONDERFUL.—THE RAPID growth in popularity of the YERBA BUENA BITTERS is something wonderful. In a little more than two years from its first introduction to the public, without the aid of capital to push it, but simply upon its own unparalleled merits as a cathartic and regulator, it has attained to a degree of importance as a remedial agency unknown in the annals of medicine. From its first starting point; its trial, it has been advancing step by step, from city to city, from town to town, and from State to State, until to day it is being sold by every respectable druggist and has become a household necessity in every family upon this coast. The prestige of its power over disease has been wafted by the grateful voices of thousands of rescued sufferers, to other lands, and from all quarters of the earth come inquiries and orders for California's sovereign remedy for the suffering. Among important foreign houses that have requested and obtained exclusive agencies for and ordered large invoices, are Fritz & Co., of Calcutta, India, and Harvey & Jamieson, of Constantinople, Turkey. James A. Scoville, of Chicago, has also solicited the exclusive agency of that city, and ordered a large bill of Bitters. The manufacturers have now in this State four wagons traveling in the farming districts, that are selling at the rate of twelve gross per week, and orders are coming in for goods faster than with their present facilities the firm is able to fill. They have removed and enlarged twice within two years, and from present prospects will be compelled soon to enlarge again. We can but congratulate them upon a success so eminently deserved.

TELEGRAPH MINING COMPANY!

ON THE COMSTOCK LODE.

Capital Stock, - - - - - - - - $6,000,000

Divided into Sixty Thousand Shares of One Hundred Dollars Each, Twenty-five Thousand Shares reserved for Working Capita

THE TELEGRAPH MINING COMPANY, INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE State of California, April 1st, 1876, has purchased 900 feet of rich gold and silver mining ground on the celebrated Comstock Lode, upon which are located the California, Consolidated Virginia, Ophir, and other well known profitable mines. The mine is situated between the Utah, Orleans and Ward mines, and the rock taken from it yields a high return of gold and silver. The Directors have reserved 25,000 Shares of the Capital Stock of the Company for working purposes. In order to avoid any danger of being compelled to assess the Stock. Ten Thousand Shares of this reserved Stock will be offered at once for subscription, at ONE DOLLAR per share. The other 15,000 shares will be disposed of from time to time through the Stock Boards, as occasion may require, and the Directors may think most profitable for the working of the mine. As soon as the Ten Thousand Shares now offered are taken, the Stock will be placed upon the Boards of the respective Stock Exchanges, and will at once command a figure more than double the price now asked for the original subscriptions. It is confidently believed that this mine, by reason of the location on the Comstock Lode, and its close proximity to the Utah will in a short time reach as high a value per share as the last named mine commands, which would be an increase of over twenty-five hundred per cent. on the price at which the stock is now offered to original subscribers.

The books of the Company will be opened for subscription, April 19th, at the office of the Company, No. 224 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

The Handkerchief Seventy Years Ago.

The handkerchief which is now an indispensable appendage of every lady's and gentleman's costume, is of comparatively modern introduction. It was, not very many years ago, deemed a vulgar object, instead of a mark of neatness, as now. Until the reign of the Empress Josephine, a handkerchief was thought, in France, so shocking that no lady would ever dare to use it before any one. The word was ever carefully avoided in refined conversation.

An actor who would have used a handkerchief on the stage, even in the most tearful moments of the play, would have unmercifully hissed; and it is only in the beginning of the present century that a celebrated actress, Mlle. Duchesnoise, dared to appear with handkerchief in hand. Having to speak of the handkerchief in the course of the piece, she never could summon courage to call it by its true name, but referred to it as a light tissue. A few years later, a translation of one of Shakspeare's plays, by Alfred de Nigney, having been acted, the word handkerchief was used for the first time on the stage, amid cries of indignation and scorn from the audience. I doubt if to-day French dégantes would carry handkerchiefs, if the wife of Napoleon I, had not given them the signal for adopting them. The Empress Josephine, though really lovely, had ugly teeth. To conceal them she was in the habit of carrying small handkerchiefs adorned with costly lace, which she continually raised gracefully to her lips. Of course all the ladies of the court followed her example, and handkerchiefs, have rapidly become an important and costly part of a feminine toilet; so that the price of a single handkerchief of the trousseau of the Duchess of Edinburgh would make the fortune of a necessitous family.

The Society Definition of "a Lady."

Mr. Hamerton, in the Portfolio, thus defines: "A lady is a woman who clearly understands, and consistently practices, the refinements of a highly-civilized existence; and the most real distinction between a lady and a woman who is not a lady is, that one is more civilized than the other, and more determined to preserve the habits of a high civilization, both in her own person and in all those over whom she has authority. These habits are not simply habits of expense; it is cheaper to remain sober than to get drunk, and yet it is more ladylike to be sober. It does not cost more money to speak good English than bad, or to be gentle than rude; yet a lady always, from preference, speaks correctly and has gentle manners."

—Going home in the car the other day Cochrane felt that he was not capable of doing justice to the nice weather, and so turned to a melancholy man at his side and asked:

"Ever see such weather as this at this time of the year?"

The stranger moved about in a nervous manner, rose up and rang the bell, and whispered:

"Get off here with me!"

The surprised Cochrane stepped off the car, and when it had passed along the stranger said

"Yes, it is remarkable weather. I didn't answer in the car. I got taken up for slander once, and you don't catch me rendering an opinion before witnesses again."

Cochrane waited in the mud for another car, and he couldn't help but notice what mean, contemptible weather it was for Spring.

—"A pyrotechnic ascent is sometimes terminated by a descent of circumstantial signification," is the way Murat Halsted put it when after going up to Washington like a rocket he went back to Cincinnati like a match.

—Five hundred and eighty-six thousand one hundred and ninety-three dimes in a barrel. We tried to get on the ninety-fourth, but it slipped off.

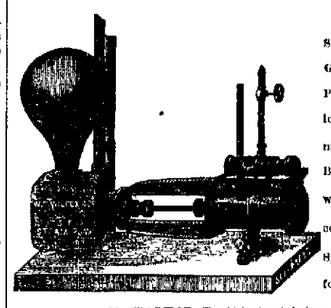
W. C. WILCOX & CO.,

Nos. 114 and 116 Beale Street, San Francisco.



The proprietors of the celebrated San Francisco Steam Pump received the GOLD MEDAL for the best Steam Pumps on exhibition at the last Mechanics' Fair in San Francisco. We have made a specialty of Tank Pumps and Boiler-feeders, and challenge comparison with anything in use for simplicity of construction, durability and economy. Specimens of our work can be seen at the following places in Oakland

J. M. WALKER, Twelfth street, between Jackson and Oak.
MRS. BLAKE Washington street, between Eleventh and Twelfth.
G. W. HUME, Cemetery road.
H. D. BACON, Oak street.
FASSKING'S PARK, Alameda.

We would also call attention to our newly-invented, direct acting Steam Pump for artesian or other deep wells, with which water can be raised from any required depth, a specimen of which can be seen at the Palace Hotel, where our pump is 300 feet down the artesian bore, and is raising 150,000 gallons per day to the top of the hotel. Another of similar construction, but much smaller, may be seen at the Hammam Baths, in San Francisco. All persons wanting pumps will find it to their advantage to call and see us.

REDUCTION IN GAS.

Important to Landlords and Gas Consumers.

SAFETY AND ECONOMY.

OFFICE OAKLAND GAS LIGHT CO.,
February 1, 1876.

IN PURSUANCE OF THE POLICY I HAVE followed by this Company since its commencement, to lower its rates as rapidly as we are enabled by the growth of the city, the price of gas will be reduced on the

1st Day of March Next

—TO—

$4 25 PER 1,000 CUBIC FEET

Considering the value of coal and labor the limited use of gas, and the distance between the places of consumption,

Oakland will be the most cheaply lighted city in the Union.

This price will leave no valid excuse for the use of any illuminant but coal Gas, among the lines of the Company's mains, a large part of which are now, and have been since they were laid, unprofitable of income.

The advantages to be reaped by the public from Cheap Gas are—

1st.—A daily saving in the cost of one of the necessaries of life.

2d.—A decrease in the number of d... fires caused by the use of the total ... ales of Petroleum.

3d.—A saving of human life by substituting stationary lights for bottle lamps.

4th.—The most convenient and purest light brought within the means of the most economical household.

However small the house, the economy will be great. If insured, the rate of premium will be lessened, if not insured, the risk of loss will be decreased.

This reduction can only be profitable to the Company, by the accession of a sufficient number of new consumers to compensate for the lessening of its present receipts; and it will become the interest of all consumers of gas, to induce their neighbors to adopt this light, in order that further reductions may be made in the future.

The attention of consumers is directed to the use of gas for heating and cooking, in burners and fixtures often if has been adopted to great extent and its use is constantly extending.

It is to be hoped that this movement will be accepted in the spirit which has inspired it, and which has always characterized the Company, viz:

That the Interests of Consumers and the Company are Identical.

The Company are constantly advised of all changes in modes of manufacture and distribution, and will at all times expend itself of any real improvements which tend to improve quality and lessen cost.
